Article 2. Applicability

2.1 These General Terms and Conditions are applicable to all Visitors of the Peace Palace.

2.2 In addition, these General Terms and Conditions apply to all natural persons that are used by the Carnegie Foundation in connection with its object, including if those persons are in the Service of a contractor or supplier that delivers services or goods in the Peace Palace, or another legal entity. The legal entity guarantees the compliance with these conditions by every employee or contractor used by the legal entity.

2.3 Deviations from these terms and conditions will only be valid if they have been agreed upon explicitly and in writing.

2.4 The relevance of possible conditions of purchase or other conditions of an opposing party is explicitly rejected.

Article 3. Access to the Peace Palace

3.1 Entrance is not possible without a valid proof of identity (passport, ID-card or European driver's license) and Admission ticket for the guided tour or the Event. In case the Visitor cannot or does not want to show a valid proof of identity, the Visitor unfortunately cannot be admitted for security reasons.

3.2 In case a Guest cannot show a valid proof of identity, the recipient party ought to identify the Guest physically, before he or she can enter the premises.

3.3 All Guests are supervised when entering the Peace Palace. All Visitors must walk through a metal detector. An exception can be made for pregnant women and people with a pacemaker; therefore, there is a handheld metal detector available. The Visitor shares the purpose of their visit to the Peace Palace. In case a Visitor refuses to cooperate with the entrance security, the admission to the Peace Palace can be denied.

3.4 All property carried by Visitors must be checked upon by X-rays, when entering the Peace Palace (except for diplomatic goods).

3.5 Visitors get a (Visitor)pass that they must carry visibly. When leaving the premises, the Visitor must return the Visitor pass to the security.

3.6 Weapons, knives and other sharp and/or dangerous and/or explosive/inflammable and/or chemical/toxic objects are forbidden, just like banners, card- or paperboards with notices, flags or flagpoles, selfie sticks, professional cameras, film-, audio-, go pro and other recording equipment (also mobile phones, but only during tours). This is to be checked by the security, under penalty of confiscation. In case the Visitor wishes not to hand in the items susceptible for confiscation, he or she is denied access to the Peace Palace and the Visitor in question has no right to a refund of its ticket.

3.7 Legally forbidden objects discovered at the security, will be handed to the police.

3.8 It is prohibited to wear face covering clothing for security reasons. A Visitor whose face is not visible, can be denied access. The board can make exceptions in some cases.

3.9 The Peace Palace is limited in access for buggy's, wheelchairs and rollators. Mobility scooters cannot be let in.

Article 4. Your visit to the Peace Palace

4.1 The Visitor's visit to the Peace Palace (including the Visitors Centre) and/or participating with a tour, shall be at his or her own risk.

4.2 The Visitor shall be obliged to comply with these General Terms and Conditions for Visitors of the Carnegie Foundation. The General Conditions are mentioned on the website of the Peace Palace. Visitor is obliged to comply with directions and/or instructions given by Carnegie Foundation employees, or another (in)direct party related to the Carnegie Foundation, as well as the security and, in case of emergency, the emergency services such as the fire brigade and the police. If, at the discretion of the security as well as Carnegie Foundation employees and/or (in)direct parties related to the Carnegie Foundation, a Visitor acts in a way that violates the General Terms and Conditions for Visitors, or directions and/or instructions he or she receives, he or she could be refused subsequent admission to the Peace Palace. This includes the Visitor's behaviour which is, according to (the party related to) the Carnegie Foundation, hurtful for people or Groups, or don't comply with the general standards of public order, common decency, respectability and safety, or goes against the accepted norm of the importance and/or brand, reputation and image of the institutions accommodated at the Peace Palace.

4.3 A Visitor is always expected to act like a well-behaved Guest, both in attitude, clothing (appropriate attire) and in behaviour. This within the discretion of the security/Carnegie Foundation. Naturally, the property of the foundation located in the Peace Palace shall be respected, shall not be touched, damaged or taken along. The Visitor is liable for any damages he or she inflicts.

4.4 If during a tour or Event, the Participant violates (one or more of) the regulations as mentioned in these Visitor Conditions, the Participant legally is in default without need of further proof of default and is the Carnegie Foundation, without judicial intervention, entitled to immediately annul the purchase and/or to deny this Participant the tour or Event and to remove him or her of the premises of the Peace Palace in case the Carnegie Foundation deems it necessary to maintain the peace and order during an Event or the tour.

4.5 In case of the situation mentioned in article 4.4, the Participant is not entitled to a refund of the amount he or she contributed to the Carnegie Foundation or the Organiser and/or other damages.

4.6 The Carnegie Foundation is authorized to refuse the Visitor entrance permanently or for a certain period of time, who during one or more previous visits to the Peace Palace has violated the Visitors Conditions/Regulations, or when in other ways there exists a justified fear of damage caused by him or her. In the event of denial of entrance, the Carnegie Foundation shall notify the Visitor forthwith, in writing if possible.

4.7 There is camera surveillance at the premises of the Peace Palace. Camera images are kept for a reasonable period of time to be determined by the Carnegie Foundation in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation, and these images will be made available to the police if necessary.

4.8 In the event of an emergency, the Carnegie Foundation shall be entitled to close the doors and to subsequently let out Visitors. The Visitor may then be requested to cooperate with the directions/instructions as mentioned in Article 4.2.

Article 5. Conditions use check room of the Carnegie Foundation

5.1 The check room in the Visitors Centre (when visiting the Visitors Centre and/or participating with a tour) and in the Academy building (during an Event) is unsupervised.

However, there are lockers available to you. The Carnegie Foundation is not liable for theft and/or loss of clothing items and the like.

Article 5. Conditions use check room of the Carnegie Foundation

5.1 The check room in the Visitors Centre (when visiting the Visitors Centre and/or participating with a tour) and in the Academy building (during an Event) is unsupervised. However, there are lockers available to you. The Carnegie Foundation is not liable for theft and/or loss of clothing items and the like.

5.2 In case the Carnegie Foundation provides a staffed check room, the following goes:
The Carnegie Foundation reserves the right to refuse to keep certain items in a staffed check room, among which objects, determined exclusively by the Carnegie Foundation, that are too big. For the use of the staffed check room of the Carnegie Foundation a set price can be charged per item. Only jackets, scarfs, bags, hats, helmets and umbrellas are accepted to be handed in. Except for bags, these objects may not contain any items.

5.3 One receipt is given per item that is handed in. Return of items is to be done solely in exchange of said receipt.

5.4 The Carnegie Foundation does not want an agreement of deposit for objects (including their content) with a (total) value higher than €150, -. Objects (including their content) with a (total) value higher than €150, - are not allowed to be handed in the staffed check room. Whoever uses the staffed check room guarantees that the value of an item, which is to be handed in, is not higher than €150,- and that he or she shall not hold the Carnegie Foundation responsible in case of any loss or damages of an amount higher than €150,-.

5.5 The liability of the Carnegie Foundation is always limited to €150,-, for each item (including content) handed in at the staffed check room. The Carnegie Foundation is not liable for any other damages, other than the damage; or in case of loss, of an item itself, and thus not for indirect damage(s) and/or consequential loss.

5.6 The Participant who hands in an object at the check room safeguards the Carnegie Foundation against damage(s) caused by (the content) of the handed in item.

5.7 Handed in items are kept exclusively by the Carnegie Foundation for the duration of the concerning Event. The Participant is obliged to pick up handed in items at the staffed check room at the Carnegie Foundation before he or she leaves the premises of the Event. Every agreement of deposit ends the moment the staffed check room closes, following the safe keeping of the item (see section 6).

Article 6. Lost and found property

6.1 Lost and found property shall be kept by the Carnegie Foundation. Should the alleged owner of an object make himself or herself known, he or she shall have the option of collecting the property himself or herself or of having it posted to him or her, cash on delivery. In either case, the owner must provide proper proof of identity. Should the Carnegie Foundation be in any doubt as to the status of the supposed owner, it is entitled to demand that proof of ownership be provided.

6.2 The Carnegie Foundation reserves the right to destroy lost property that has not been claimed within three months.

Article 7. Regulations

7.1 The Visitor of the Peace Palace shall:

7.1a not touch objects on display without the permission of the staff of the Carnegie Foundation or another (in)direct party related to the Carnegie Foundation. Parents and teachers and/or other supervisors must closely monitor the minor(s), individuals or Groups they are accompanying or are joined by, to ensure that they do not touch any of the objects on display;

7.1b not advertise or offer goods or Services of any kind for sale to third parties, or provide goods free of charge;

7.1c not distribute folders/flyers on the premises of the Peace Palace unless the Carnegie Foundation has granted permission in writing.

7.1d not be a nuisance to other Visitors by their actions, including, but not limited to, blocking the view of objects on display for a long period of time, making continuous noise and theft;

7.1e not bring any animals (including pets) along, apart from service dogs;

7.1f not take any photographs, smoke, consume food or drink, except in the Refectory or in the garden in case the staff of the Carnegie Foundation allows this.

7.1g not bring along or take drugs under penalty of confiscation, and in some cases arrest and prosecution by the police.

7.1h Without prejudice to the provision in article 7.1 (f) (don't photograph) photographs, videos and/or shots made in the Peace Palace may only be used for commercial purposes with the explicit written consent of the Carnegie Foundation, while relevant rates of payment could be applied.

7.2 Parents/caretakers, teachers and other supervisors shall always be responsible and accountable for the behaviour of the minors, individuals or Groups whom/which they are accompanying.

Article 8. Privacy

8.1 The Carnegie Foundation respects your privacy and handles your personal details carefully in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation. If you want to know more about how we handle your personal details, read our complete privacy policy on the website of the Peace Palace.

8.2 By checking the box "I would like to be kept informed about Carnegie Foundation/Peace Palace activities", you grant the Carnegie Foundation/Peace Palace permission to inform you from time to time regarding its activities, offered services and products. However, the website visitor will always have the option to indicate that he or she does not wish to be sent any further information.

Article 9. Liability of the Carnegie Foundation

9.1 Entering the Peace Palace (including the Visitors Centre) and/or attending the Events and/or participating with a tour, occurs at the Visitors/Participants own risk, in the sense that neither the Carnegie Foundation nor its employees, guides, or other (in)direct party related to the Carnegie Foundation is liable for damage(s), unless there is a matter of gross negligence or an intent on the part of the Carnegie Foundation. The liability is any case limited to the lower of the following two sums:

- a) the sum paid out to the Carnegie Foundation by its insurance company with respect to that individual claim; or
- b) the reimbursement made to the Carnegie Foundation by a third party for the damage with respect to that individual claim.

9.2 In the event of damage caused by death or physical injury, the total liability of the Carnegie Foundation shall in no case amount to more than the arrangement for compensation specified in article.

9.3 The Carnegie Foundation shall in no case be liable for indirect damage, including consequential damage, lost profits, salary or savings etc.

9.4 The liability of the Carnegie Foundation is in any case ruled out (and thus, is not qualified for compensation) at:

- a) damages as a result of acts of third parties, including lessees of (spaces in or parts of) the place where the Event takes place and the, by the third parties called in, persons, acts and/or influences by persons that perform duties as well as other occupants of the Peace Palace;
- b) damages in consequence of not complying with the instructions given by the staff of the Carnegie Foundation or the security and by not complying with the general conditions/regulations.

9.5 The Carnegie Foundation is not liable for differences in the time schedule of an Event or tour and for the (potential) damages which are caused by the Participant and/or third parties. The Carnegie Foundation is furthermore not liable for the content and the manner (quality) of performing the program of the Event. The Carnegie Foundation is neither liable for changes in the program of an Event.

9.6 The Carnegie Foundation is not liable for loss or theft of your personal belongings.

9.7 In each case wherein these conditions do not apply, the decision of the board of the Carnegie Foundation is binding.

Article 10. Force Majeure

10.1 If circumstances occur that cannot be attributed to the Carnegie Foundation, this is considered force majeure. Force majeure for the Carnegie Foundation shall be defined as any (un)foreseeable circumstance, such as nuisance, inconvenience and/or illegal acts caused by third parties, under what other Visitors, because of maintenance activities or because of the malfunctioning of facilities, which impedes the performance of agreement by the Carnegie Foundation, either permanently or temporarily, in such a way as to make performance of the agreement impossible or difficult. Mistakes made by third parties concerning, for example, announcements, statements and/or estimates, regarding the Event or the guide, fall within force majeure. Illness of a trainer and speaker who cannot be replaced on time (at an Event), epidemics, natural disasters, walkouts at the Carnegie Foundation and force majeure at third parties whom which the Carnegie Foundation is in any way shape or form dependent on, are included. In case of force majeure there exists no right to reimbursements and/or damages.

10.2 In case of force majeure, in the broadest sense of the word, under which in this context also included strikes, fire, heavy weather etc. the Carnegie Foundation has the right to postpone the tour or the Event or to cancel said tour or Event.

Article 11. Final clause

11.1 These General Terms and Conditions for Visitors and the agreement between the Visitor and the Carnegie Foundation shall be subject to Dutch law.

11.2 Any disputes that cannot be resolved in mutual consultation shall only be brought before the competent court in the Netherlands.

11.3 The information on the website is composed with the utmost care. Based on new information adaptations can be made. No rights may be derived from unlooked-for mistakes in a description or an incorrect listing price.

Section 2 – Special conditions for Guided Tours

The tour takes place in the Peace Palace and takes about 40-45 minutes, exclusively conducted by a guide.

Article 12. Regulations tour

12.1 It is not permitted to leave the Group during, before or after the tour. It is not permitted to enter hallways or rooms that are not part of the tour or parts of hallways or rooms that are evidently not accessible for Visitors. It is also not permitted to walk in the garden, without the permission of the Carnegie Foundation.

12.2 Tours have a maximum of 20 people per guide (25 people for educational programs). For primary school the rule applies to have two supervisors present for each Group of 15 pupils. For secondary school the rule applies to have at least one supervisor and not more than two for each Group of 15 pupils. The Carnegie Foundation retains its right to deny access to Groups that do not comply with these norms.

12.3 Participants are not allowed to bring bags, cameras and mobile phones during the tour.

Participants of tours can store their belongings in the lockers at the Visitors Centre.

12.4 Participants should be present around 15 minutes before the start of the tour, with reference to the security screening.

12.4 Participants should be present around 15 minutes before the start of the tour, with reference to the security screening.

12.5 Children younger than 12 years can take part in a tour, exclusively under supervision of an adult (two children per adult).

Article 13. Charges

The prices mentioned on the tickets are in Euro, including VAT. Prices are under reservation of price changes and can be adapted without a foreannouncement.

Article 14. Purchase, payment and receipt of ticket

14.1 Tickets can be purchased on www.vredespaleis.nl. In case the customer fills in the form on the website and sends it electronically to the Carnegie Foundation, an offer is expected to be made by the customer. The agreement comes about the moment a confirmation of booking is sent to the customer by e-mail.

14.2 Payment of your Admission ticket is handled by means of iDEAL, Visa or Mastercard. The general terms and conditions of the bank and/or payment method apply on the payment. The customer receives a confirmation of payment by e-mail. After payment you receive your Admission ticket on the same e-mail address to print out.

Article 15. Cancelling and changing Ticket

15.1 Once the agreement has been affected as referred to in Article 14, the purchase cannot be cancelled by the Participant, nor can the purchase amount be refunded, special cases within the discretion of the Carnegie Foundation excluded.

15.2 Up to 36 hours before the tour, it is possible to change the ID-information on the Ticket. Up until 15 days before the tour it is possible to change the date and time based on the availabilities. Changes are free of charge. An Admission ticket bought in advance becomes invalid by passing the time(frame) noted on the Ticket.

15.3 The Carnegie Foundation has the right to always cancel, change or break off a tour. If possible, Participants will be made aware beforehand by e-mail. In case of a cancellation, Participants automatically get the purchase amount refunded.

Article 16. No refund

16.1 The following circumstances never lead to any obligation, refund or damages by the Carnegie Foundation to the Participant.

- a) The invisibility of one or multiple rooms;
- b) Partial closing of the main building of the Peace Palace;
- c) In case of emergency, the entire or partial evacuation of the Peace Palace and of the main building of the Peace Palace, deemed necessary by the Carnegie Foundation;
- d) Nuisance or inconvenience caused by other Visitors, such as noise pollution, inappropriate behaviour or theft;
- e) Damage caused by other Visitors;
- f) Nuisance or inconvenience caused by maintenance work, including, but not restricted to, renovation or the (re)decoration of spaces;
- g) Nuisance or inconvenience caused by the malfunctioning of facilities in the Peace Palace;
- h) Denial of access to the Peace Palace. In case such is under restriction of the Carnegie Foundation, in consideration of preservation of the order and the peace, the Carnegie Foundation has the right to deny a Participant access to the tour, without the right of refund and/or damages, in case he or she arrives after the start of the tour;
- i) With breach of (one or multiple) of these rules, the Participant is legally in default without need of further proof of default and the Carnegie Foundation is empowered to immediately dissolve the purchase without judicial intervention and/or to deny the Participant (further) access to the tour and to remove him or her from the premises of the Peace Palace in case the Carnegie Foundation deem it reasonably fit to maintain the peace and order during the tour.
- j) Loss of the Ticket.

16.2 The paid amount of a tour can only be refunded in case the Carnegie Foundation cancels a tour because of reasons that are not caused by the Participant and that do not fall under article 16 paragraph 1. This, however, is under restriction of the Carnegie Foundation.

Section 3 – Special conditions for Events

Article 17. Establishment of the agreement

17.1 These Visitor Conditions apply to all offers and agreements between the Carnegie Foundation on one hand and the Participant, who orders/buys a Ticket, on the other hand, apropos an Event organized by the Carnegie Foundation. These Visitor Conditions apply also in case this agreement is established by a (pre)sales association, brought in by the Carnegie Foundation for the particular Event. Joining on to it, these Visitor Conditions apply to everyone who attends any Event in the Peace Palace, without the person in question having established a(n) (in)direct agreement with the Carnegie Foundation. The agreement between the Carnegie Foundation and the Participant is established the moment the Participant orders or buys an Admission ticket for the Event at the Carnegie Foundation or at a (pre)sales association brought in by the Carnegie Foundation for the regarding Event and the Carnegie Foundation has confirmed this in writing to the Participant. An Admission ticket can consist of a physical or digital document provided by or on behalf of the Carnegie Foundation or an Organiser. An Admission ticket is once provided and gives access to one person.

17.2 A valid Admission ticket gives the Participant the right to attend the Event. Sale or gift to a third party is not allowed. Only the holder of the Admission ticket gets access. The Carnegie Foundation may assume that the holder of this Admission ticket is also its rightful claimant. The Participant needs to make sure himself or herself that he or she becomes and maintains the holder of the Admission ticket provided by the Carnegie Foundation or Organiser.

17.3 The Carnegie Foundation preserves the right to deny registration of a Participant for an Event of the Carnegie Foundation based on oversubscription or special circumstances such as the fear of disruption of the order by the Participant.

Article 18. Cancellation by the Participant

18.1 Tickets bought for an Event of the Carnegie Foundation do not fall under the legal time limit on returns of 14 days, seeing that they are purchased for a set date/time. An order of an Admission ticket cannot be cancelled. They cannot be refunded or interchanged for a different date or Event. Refunds of unused or surplus Tickets are not possible (see however, paragraph 2).

18.2 Unless stated differently, the Participant can cancel the agreement free of charge up until 28 days before the date of the Event of the Carnegie Foundation, the amount already paid will be refunded.

In case (part of) the agreement gets cancelled from the 28th day until the date of the Event of the Carnegie Foundation, the full amount will be charged and there will be no refund.

18.3 The second paragraph is not applicable to an agreement of participation of an Event of the Carnegie Foundation which is free of charge for the Participant. In case of cancellation of an agreement regarding a concerning free Event applies the following:

- until the 14th day (exclusively) before the day of the Event of the Carnegie Foundation there will be no charges;
- from the 14th day (including) up until the day of the Event of the Carnegie Foundation, the Participant owes administration fees and the change of remaining costs. These costs will be charged, unless the Carnegie Foundation chooses differently.

18.4 Cancellation can solely be done in writing.

18.5 As date of cancellation, the date stamp or the date of the e-mail applies.

Article 19. Substitution

In case of inability to come, the Participant can let someone else substitute their place at an Event of the Carnegie Foundation. Substitution is only possible if the information of the substitute is communicated in writing to the Carnegie Foundation, at least eight days before the Event.

Article 20. Early termination by the Participant at paid Event

20.1 In case after commencement of the Event, the Participant prematurely stops its attendance or otherwise does not attend the Event at all, the Participant owes the full costs and does not have the right to any refund or remission.

20.2 At early termination there exist no right to send a substitute as mentioned in article 19.

Article 22. Cancellation by the Carnegie Foundation

22.1 The Carnegie Foundation remains its right to cancel an Event or to relocate it to a different space in case the Carnegie Foundation finds enough reason to do so, without the Participant having any claim to damages; in any case of the situation where it is made necessary to do so because of an international lawsuit that takes place in the Peace Palace, falls under this jurisdiction. In case of shutdown, modification or relocation of an Event because of force majeure, the Carnegie Foundation is not responsible for any damages.

22.2 In case of cancellation the registration and the agreement will be considered terminated.

22.3 If the Event gets cancelled because of force majeure, article 10 and article 21 paragraph 5 apply.

22.4 If the Event gets cancelled without reasons of force majeure as mentioned in article 10, the Participant is entitled to a refund of the amount paid in advance, after deduction of the possible administration fees.

22.5 In case an Event is stopped, modified or cancelled, because of reasons of force majeure, the Carnegie Foundation shall repay the already paid costs up until the possible credit balance remains after settlement of the costs of the Event, where the amount received by a possible insurance policy is taken into consideration.

22.6 The Carnegie Foundation shall notify the Participant of the cancellation or modification.

Article 22. Reservation of changes

22.1 The Carnegie Foundation remains its right to change the date(s) of an Event of the Carnegie Foundation in case the Carnegie Foundation considers enough reason to do so, without the Participant having any claim to damages. The Carnegie Foundation shall notify the Participant as soon as possible of such a change. The change gives the Participant the right to cancel its registration within seven days after the notice of change. In case of force majeure article 10 and article 21 paragraph 5 apply. In no case of force majeure, the Participant is entitled to restitution of the already paid costs, after deduction of possible administration fees.

22.2 The Carnegie Foundation is always free to change the content, the programme, the division and/or the location of the Event and/or to replace the speakers, workshop givers or trainers, without the Participant having any claim to damages. In case of modification, the Carnegie Foundation will notify the Participant in earliest convenience. The modification does not give the Participant the right to cancellation or restitution of the already paid costs. Article 18 shall apply mutatis mutandis.

Article 23. Regulations

The Participant is among other things not allowed to:

- 1) bring along photo-, film- and other recording equipment to the place where the Event takes place, under penalty of confiscation for the duration of the Event.

- 2) record the Event in any form, including photography, film and making other audio-, and/or image recordings (under which the use of a selfie stick) is forbidden unless the Organiser of the Event or the Carnegie Foundation as the Organiser gives permission for this. All such records shall be confiscated and destroyed.
- 3) bring along, in addition to as determined in section 1 glass, plastic bottles, can, fireworks, (fire)weapons and/or dangerous objects and/or comestibles and/or (alcoholic) beverages to the place where the Event takes place, under penalty of confiscation. The security will watch out for these things.
- 4) bring along disturbing objects or fabrics to the place where the Event takes place, under penalty of confiscation.
- 5) visit (parts of) halls or rooms that are not part of the Event you are attending or evidently not allowed to access by Visitors. Neither is it permitted to walk in the garden without permission of the staff of the Carnegie Foundation.

Article 24. Rights of the Carnegie Foundation

24.1 In case of breach of the regulations as mentioned in the Visitor Conditions by the Participant, the Participant is legally at fault without further need of proof and the Carnegie Foundation is entitled to immediately annul the agreement without judicial intervention and/or to deny the Participant (further) access to the Event and to remove him or her from the premises of the Peace Palace in case the Carnegie Foundation deems this reasonably necessary to maintain the peace and order of the Event. In the situation(s) mentioned in the previous sentence, the Participant has no claim to restitution of the amount he or she paid to the Carnegie Foundation or the Organiser and/or damages. The damage of loss caused by these possible misbehaviours shall be recovered from the Participant.

24.2 Image and/or audio recordings

- a. The Organiser and/or the Carnegie Foundation is/are entitled make (live) image and/or audio recordings of the Event and the space it takes place, including the public, as well as making this public and to multiply this, on the condition reasonable interest is not harmed. People that appear on these recordings through attendance of the Event give prematurely permission for this, without having claim to any damages.
- b. In case a photograph is used where the Participant is shown and the Participant objects to this, he or she can report this to privacy@carnegie-stichting.nl and the Carnegie Foundation shall make a comparative assessment of our interest in publishing (reporting/communication which falls under freedom of speech) and your interest (privacy request). In case you make a legitimate request, the picture(s) shall be removed if possible, at earliest convenience.

Article 25. Copyright

25.1 All materials and graphic or other designs, made by order of the Carnegie Foundation as part of the Event, intellectual property remains to the Carnegie Foundation.

25.2 the Participant that wants to use these materials and designs, can make a request in writing to the Carnegie Foundation. The Carnegie Foundation can attach conditions to such admission.

These Visitor Conditions are determined by the management of the Carnegie Foundation. The Visitor Conditions are published at the website of the Carnegie Foundation Peace Palace.
www.peacepalace.org.

The Visitor Conditions are lastly actualized on the 23th of September 2019.
